You Will Learn . . .
At this seminar you will learn about innovative equipment and cements used for the construction of quality concrete pavements as well as proper design methods for crosswalks, roundabouts, wheelchair ramps, and concrete joints. You will also have an opportunity to learn about the green highway initiative and the new mechanistic-empirical design methods for concrete pavements.

Who Should Attend?
This seminar will assist state, county, city and town highway officials and maintenance personnel, engineers, architects, contractors’ personnel, and material and equipment suppliers in the performance of their jobs.
